

Dear Science Students,

On behalf of the Science Society Executives and Council, I want to extend a warm welcome to every student in the Faculty of Science. Whether you're joining the University of Windsor for the very first time or returning for another year, we're excited to have you as part of our science community.

To our incoming first-year students, welcome! Beginning university is an exciting milestone, and while it can feel overwhelming at times, know that you're not alone. Every upper-year student, Science Society member, and volunteer was once in your position.

We hope you'll take every opportunity to meet new people, ask questions, get involved, and make the most of your university experience. Science Society exists to make your time at the University of Windsor more than just attending classes. We are here to represent your voice, advocate for your interests, and create opportunities that help you succeed both inside and outside the lecture hall. Whether that's through academic support, mysci mentorship, networking events, volunteer opportunities, professional development, wellness initiatives, or simply creating memorable social events, our goal is to help every science student feel connected and supported.

This year, our team is committed to continuing to build a welcoming and inclusive community where students from every program can connect, collaborate, and thrive. We believe that some of the most meaningful parts of university happen outside the lecture hall through friendships, shared experiences, leadership opportunities, and the memories you create along the way. I encourage you to introduce yourself, attend our events, participate in our programs, and never hesitate to reach out to us.

Whether you have ideas you'd like to share, concerns you'd like us to advocate for, or you're simply looking for a way to become involved, Science Society is here for you.

Thank you for placing your trust in us to represent the Faculty of Science this year. We cannot wait to meet you and help make this an unforgettable year.

Welcome back, and best of luck this semester!

Cheers,

Marco Oliverio

President, Science Society 2026–2027
